

Mrs. Jean Strippoli received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Benedictine College. She taught science and coached for six years at Bishop Miege High School, her Alma Mater, in Kansas City. After marrying, moving to four states and having three children she settled in Cleveland, and began a new career at St. Angela Merici in 2000. At St. Angela Merici she has been instrumental in establishing the Allergy and Wellness policy and providing leadership to the Wellness committee. She is a significant part of the wellness program, helping to provide nutrition education and health and safety programs as well as the bi-annual Fun Run. She has coached several sports in her community recreation program and volunteered in several board positions in her local soccer organization.

Mrs. Strippoli is the mother of two college students and one high school senior. She enjoys walking, water aerobics, reading and of course, cooking, cleaning and home maintenance.
